DEFENDS RIGHT TO COMBINE.

Commissioner Hurley Advocates the Passage of Webb Bill.

Contending that it is industrial folly to refuse American manufacturers the right to combine for foreign trade Chairman Hurley, of the Federal Trade Commission, opened the hearings before the House Judiciary Committee yesterday on the Webb bill to legalize such combinations.

Commissioner Rublee, of the commission, also spoke in favor of the bill, which was introduced at the suggestion of the Department of Commerce and the Federal Trade Commission.

against Frank G. Knight. Desertion and misconduct are alleged.

MORE RECRUITS JOIN MILITIA

Seventeen Added to the Fighting List for Border Service.

Seventeen more rookies were added to the "fighting list" at the recruiting stations yesterday. The men who have been doubtful about joining the militia because they didn't want to spend their vacation at Fort Myer are signing up at the stations every day now, with well-based expectations of enjoying a few months on the border.

Harry E. Gladman yesterday offered the use of his automobile to convey the recruits from the city station to the mobilization camp. The Droop Company, and the Independent Music Company, furnished sheet music to the Third Infantry Band last night. The National Capital Bank has inaugurated a system whereby the militiamen can have their money paid to the bank directly from the government, with the privilege to draw out on the salary a month in advance.

The men who were enlisted yesterday were Marshall W. Taylor, 1018 Twelfth street southwest; William J. Mullen, 704 H street southwest; John E. Barnes, 411 Thirteenth street southeast; Howard Smith, 729 Second street northwest; William Eaglin, 1316 D street northwest; Benjamin Galtier, 237 Twenty-second street northwest; William H. Green, 215 D street southwest; Francis G. Anderson, Mount Rainier, Md.; Harry Sandford, 3017 Dent street northwest; William M.
Brawner, 110 B street northeast; Albert J. Woodruff, 315 U street northeast; Morris J. Webster, 104 Fifth street northwest; Andrew Peckham, 446 Sixth street northeast; Harold Donovan, Bryant street; Robert Willingham, 1339 I-J D street southwest; Charles W. Thompson, Berwyn, Md.; and Charles J. Thomas, 325 Tenth street southeast.

Men who were pledged in at the mobilization camp were Edward W.
Harding, Gilbert K. King, James E.
Love, James W. McKenna, Thomas A.
McIntyre, James J. Mulligan, James H.
Porterfield, Karl Schaefer, George R.
Seis, Alfred C. Weisler, Herbert L. Carroll, George Duffin, William Fitzgerald, John E. Hutchinson, John R. Johnson, Aloysius Payne and Raymond C. Cogan.

Want Convention Here.

Invitations have been issued to the officers and members of the Society of the Army, of the Potomac and the Medal of Honor Association asking them to hold their 1917 annual convention in Washington. Col. Myron M. Parker is the bearer of the invitations.

Woodmen Hold Outing.

Members of the Patriotic Sons of America, and Elm, Alpha and Mount Vernon camps, Woodmen of the World, held a special outing at Marshall Hall yesterday. A drill in uniform by teams of the Woodmen marked the feature of the day. Thousands of members and visitors were in attendance.

BABY BREEZES BRING $5,000

Pretty Girls Reap Rich Harvest on Good Will
"Fan Day."

Thousands of "smiling babies" fanned the air yesterday for Washington. Thousands of Washingtonians bought Baby Day fans, and the babies at the Baby Hospital Camp at Camp Good Will are sleeping peacefully and cooling today.

For the money that was taken in yesterday by pretty girls with fans for sale has assured cool nights and fresh air for hundreds of Washington babies who otherwise could not get it. Just how much money was collected by the fan maidens is not yet known. The count will not be completed until tomorrow, but Mrs. Esther Sefton, who was in general charge of the fan campaign, estimated that at least $5,000 was netted.

Every one of the 35,000 fans were sold.
Any that may be returned—and there will be very few—have been bought up by Kallipolis Grotto for its excursion.

Everywhere in Washington, in stores, on street corners, in theaters, the fan merchants—pretty and compelling—held up passersby. And most of them sooner or later "came across."

Last night at Keith's the Columbia, the National, numerous movie shows and at Chevy Chase, Glen Echo and other amusement places, pretty girls mingled with the dancers and the crowds, selling fans that would blow health to Washington babies.

Italians Shell Paresno.

Vienna (via Berlin), July 18.—The shelling of Paresno by three Italian destroyers was announced today by the admirality. Two private houses and the Parliament Building were damaged, but no one was killed. After being struck by land batteries the ships withdrew.

Mrs. Mackintosh Gets Decree.

Mrs. Bessie A. Mackintosh was yesterday given a decree of absolute divorce
